VISUAL DIRECTION CARDS

Visual direction cards are an excellent way to communicate to your child or student with autism the appropriate behavior they should be exhibiting.

A picture can be more a efficient manner to communicate specific behaviors you would like the child to demonstrate.

This 3 x 3 inch set of visual direction cards can be printed, cut out, laminate (optional) and assembled into a book. The graphics on each card are offset to the right in order to give ample space for binding. I use the plastic binder system for mine but you could use any binding system that works for you.

Each page has a colored tab with its title on it making it easy to locate and turn to the card you want to use when on the go with your student(s).

ASSEMBLY DIRECTIONS

1. Print one copy for each book you would like to create.,
2. Cut out each page, laminate and cut out.

Use the binding system of your choice to assemble the book. I have used plastic binders and spiral binders.
